HIDING IN BLUE RIDGE.

Virginian, Wanted on Wife-Murder Charge, Eludes Pursuers.

Luray, Va., Oct. 26.—All efforts to locate Joseph M. Frazier, who is said to be hiding in the Blue Ridge, charged with wife murder, have so far been futile. Frazier, a typical man of the mountains, similar in many respects to members of the Allen gang, is wanted to tell what he knows of the death of his wife, which occurred on October 5.

Mrs. Frazier's death was attended by many suspicious circumstances. It is alleged that neighbors who prepared her body for burial found upon it many wounds and bruises. These are alleged to have been made by the woman's husband when her baby was only 2 days old.

Frazier is said to have assaulted and beaten his wife because she could not do her housework. The man is said to have served several jail sentences for beating his wife while they lived in Greene county. Fear of him is said to have kept the woman from testifying against her husband. During her last illness Mrs. Frazier is said to have told her neighbors they would find on her body the cause of her death.

Fox Chase in Albemarle.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 26.—The live-fox chase yesterday, under the auspices of the Albemarle County Hunt, attracted a good field. The start was at Woods Crossing and the course lay across four plantations and back to Farmington, where the 10-pound red was "holed," making a circuit of 4 miles over sod fields and rail fences. Reynard was dug out, and after a half-hour run was again "holed." Following the chase, the participants enjoyed an oyster roast at the farm of Woods Garth.

Among the riders were Sidney J. Holloway, master of foxhounds, on Bridgewater; Charles W. Hulfish, on Whack; Dr. Archie C. Randolph, on Security; Mrs. Sidney Holloway, on Medora; Miss Berta Garth, on Maples; Miss Carter, on June; Miss Willie Garth, on Jack; Lewis Garth, on Ben Cole; Edward Harris, of Richmond, on Leisburg Boy; Fred Campbell, on Lady Frances; E. D. Taylor, on Blaze Away; Jack Jones, on Merant; Jack Rinehart, on Chestnut, and Roger and Hollis Rinehart, on ponies. Mrs. Reginald Brooks phoned at the last minute that she was detained at Mirador.

Elopement.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 26.—News of the secret marriage of Mr. John Holt McElroy, a student in the academic department of the University of Virginia, and Miss Marguerite Mae Prime, a niece of Senator F. G. Prime, of New York, has leaked out. Mr. McElroy left college early last week and met his fiancée at the Marlborough Washington Hotel in New York, from which they eloped, coming direct to Charlottesville, where they were married Wednesday morning in a ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Crowe, of the Church of the Holy Paraclete.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Prime, of Upper Jay, N. Y. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McElroy, of Providence, R. I., and a grandson of the late Joseph Bannigan, the rubber king.

COLONIAL BEACH OYSTERS

Resident Doctor Pronounces Bivalves Sanitary in Every Manner.

A party left Washington a few days ago to carry on a rigid examination into the condition of the waters of the lower Potomac, where it is charged the oysters are polluted. Those in the party represented authorities from Virginia and Maryland, as well as a representative of the bureau of chemistry of the Agriculture Department.

"I have lived at Colonial Beach for more than 27 years and in all that time I have never known of a person there who has taken sick from eating oysters, although they are eaten in all seasons of the year," said Dr. M. A. Groshon, health officer of Colonial Beach and register of births and deaths for the county, when speaking of the accusation which has been made that the bivalves in the vicinity of Colonial Beach are polluted.

Dr. Groshon said that the best oysters were found in and around Colonial Beach, and that the authorities erred when they stated that the oysters could be polluted from the sewage from Washington. He pointed out that Colonial Beach is 71 miles from Washington, and said that the sewage would have been purified long before it reached that point.

"The oysters in and around Colonial Beach are in a sanitary condition," he said, "and I feel that I am some judge of them." Dr. Groshon further said that it can easily be told if an oyster is polluted or not by the appearance.

The party of experts which left Washington this week is the second party that has made an examination. It is probable that the final report will be made to the bureau of chemistry when the experts return this week.

Death of Young McMillin.

Bristol, Tenn.-Va., Oct. 26.—Brown McMillin, 25 years old, son of former Gov. and former Representative Benton McMillin, of Tennessee, died in St. Luke's Hospital here yesterday, morning following an illness of five weeks of a complication of diseases. Young McMillin was a grandson of the late Gov. John C. Brown, and for several years had been doing newspaper work. His body was taken to Pulaski, Tenn., for burial beside the grave of his mother and that of his distinguished grandfather.

Virginia Suffragettes.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 26.—The equal Suffrage League of Virginia, in convention here yesterday, declared 22 per cent of the State's population illiterate, as in contrast with smaller states where equal suffrage and compulsory education prevail.

The league declared for compulsory education, international arbitration, reaffirmed its demands for equal rights for women, and called especially for an eight-hour day for women who work. The double standard of morals for men and women were condemned.

Mrs. B. B. Valentine, of Richmond, was elected president and Mary Johnston, the novelist, was elected a vice president.

STATE LOSES $19,506.31.

Act Reduces Assessment One-Half Per Cent.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 26.—The State Corporation Commission has completed its assessments upon the property and gross receipts of water companies, light, heat and power companies and gas companies for 1912 and the net result is a decrease of $12,746.30.

This decrease is the result of an act of the general assembly approved March 14, 1912, which reduced the rate of assessment upon the gross receipts of such corporations from 1 per cent, to one-half of 1 per cent.

The actual loss to the state for the current year on account of his reduction in rate is $19,506.31, this actual loss being reduced to the apparent loss of $12,746.30 by the natural increase in earnings and property values of these corporations since the 1911 assessment was made.

The largest assessment upon this character of corporation is made against the Virginia Railway and Power Company, and amounts to $14,475.76, which added to the tax assessed against the railroad property and earnings of this corporation, amounting to $37,648.77 makes the total state tax assessed against it $52,124.53 for the year 1912 and places the Virginia Railway and Power Company among the largest taxpayers to the state.

Montague Goes North.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 26.—Andrew Jackson Montague, congressman-elect from the Third district, and former governor of Virginia, left Richmond yesterday for a tour of the Northern states to fill numerous engagements in the Woodrow Wilson presidential campaign.

Mr. Montague returned from the Southwest Sunday and was that evening taken suddenly ill at his home, as a result of which he was confined to his bed for some days, reaching his office yesterday for the first time since his indisposition.

Mr. Montague will be in New York today, where he will call at Democratic national headquarters. From New York he will begin his campaigning, which will carry him through a large number of the doubtful states. He will probably not return to Richmond for several weeks.

Fairfax County Fair.

Fairfax, Va., Oct. 26.—The Fairfax county fair, which began Wednesday, closed Thursday. The fair was well attended, large numbers of people coming from Washington and the surrounding counties of Virginia.

One of the features was the parade of school children, who were here from all parts of the county.

Addresses were delivered by Westmoreland Davis, Dr. J. Armond Stone and Professor Benson. There was a spelling contest and dancing in the town hall.

Gets Long Term.

Hampton, Va., Oct. 26.—William Edward Nelson, a young white man, has been convicted in the circuit court here of stabbing Councilman John S. Wyatt, and sentenced to two years on the road force of the state.

Nelson is a young stonecutter and claimed that the stabbing was the result of a drunken spree, which he had been on several days prior to the attack.
